Our Weekly Round Up!

Message from Mrs Fawbert:

It has been so lovely seeing how engaged and inspired the children have been, celebrating Sir David Attenborough's 100th birthday today. I am amazed at their brilliant explorer and animal costumes! They have learnt a lot about David Attenborough and created some wonderful work linked to this.

I feel incredibly proud of how hard the staff and the children work and what a wonderful, happy school community we have!

Wishing you a lovely weekend!

Miss Fountain starts her maternity leave today. We wish her all the best with her new arrival!

Please help us raise funds!

Please donate what you can and share on your social media, with family & friends!

What's going on after half term - notices/information:

Class photos: Next Thursday the children will be having their class photo. Please ensure they are dressed smartly in full school uniform and school shoes. (Dragonflies can bring their PE kit to change into during the afternoon).

Mr Palmer: You will get to see Mr Palmer back some mornings, because he is going to be helping out with the groundwork and maintenance side of things! He has missed us and we have missed him!

FOBIS: Next Friday FOBIS will be holding a meeting in the hall after school, to arrange our Summer Fair. If you are able to help at all, please join us.

Wear green for Mental Health: We like to teach the children that mental health is important, just like physical health is. Next Friday can all children wear non-uniform including as much green as possible? We are not taking donations, just raising awareness.
